Week of May 31-June 5, 2010

Interesting Fact for the Week

When Queen Elizabeth I of England died she owned over 3,000 gowns.

The red kangaroo and the emu are featured on the Coat of Arms of Australia. It is often attributed to the mistaken belief that neither animal can move backward, only forward - i.e. progress (the reality being that both animals can, but infrequently do).

- ⊙ Be sure your classrooms are picked up with trash with no objects on the floors. We will be cleaning floors in classrooms as well as hallways this summer. In addition, student desks should be empty with nothing on top of them, and teacher's desks should be fairly free of clutter just in case we need to move them around during the cleaning.
